The uncentered self has given in to outer force, say the knowledge-holders. It sends worship in the wrong direction.

At the center is the great time-keeper, where is also the power for judging and measuring, say the knowledge-holders.

Say the knowledge-holders, one who does not use the life-giving principles is foolish.

The Potent Center is conglomerate force, say the knowledge-holders.

The way to the Source is in rightness of heart, but the way is not always straight, say the knowledge-holders.
